It's always fun to have more friends but what happens when you meet someone new that is so very different from you? Pete the Cat learns that even though Gus looks different and moves different that any of his other friends, Gus is special in his own way. They all discover that there is always something everyone can do and if everyone does their best, great things can happen.

Key Vocabulary

Imagine: to picture in your mind
Shy: not comfortable, bashful, somewhat fearful
Platypus: a mammal that is unlike other mammals. They have a wide bill like a duck, flat tail like a beaver, and lay eggs like a chicken.

Tricky Phrasing

Rocking to a new song or rocking to his own beat: enjoying the music, playing with the music
Sounds like my kind of cat: someone I would enjoy having as a friend
Groovy sound: very pleasing, wonderful, great. (slang term)

Before Reading: Discussion Starters

1. Have you ever been the new kid at school? How did it feel?
2. What do you think when you see a new kid at school? How do you act towards the new kid?
3. If you did your very best, what would you do to make the new kid feel accepted at school?

Teacher Note:

Kids struggle when they are not as good at something as someone else is. It is a hard thing to learn but we each have different strengths and weaknesses. Encourage your students to do their personal best and not compare themselves to others. Their uniqueness is what makes a class full of kids fun. Together they can do great things if everyone does their best.

After Reading: Discussion Starters

1. What was it that Pete first saw that made him want to be friends with the new kid?
Red hat and green shoes. Why did Pete say "Sounds like my kind of cat"? Pete wore bright colored shoes too – but his were orange.
2. Was it easy for Pete to meet the new kid? Did Pete do his best to make friends? What did he do?
Pete was feeling shy but he wanted to say hi so he didn't give up. He kept riding by Gus' house. Pete was determined and did his best to be friends with Gus.
3. What was Pete's first impression when he finally met Gus? Answers will vary. Gus was very different than anyone Pete had ever met. Gus was NOT like Pete and Pete was NOT like Gus.
4. How did Pete feel about meeting people who were different? He thought it was very cool which means he like it. How do you feel when you meet someone who is different from you? Share stories.

5. How did Pete and his friends respond when Gus couldn't do the things that were easy for them to do? Answers will vary. They encouraged him to try new things (climb a tree, leapfrog). Encouraged him to not be sad. Reminded him that everyone is different and can do different things.
6. How did Gus respond when he couldn't do something that everyone else could do? He wished he could. Tried a few new things. Eventually felt discouraged enough to say "It's no fun around here for me." He went away from the others.
7. Have you ever wished you could do something that your friend could do? How did it feel? How did your friend respond? Share stories.
8. Describe how the story ended. How was each animal important to the band? Answers will vary. Individual talents make a better band – more instruments, better sound. Each used their talent and together it made a fun activity for everyone.
9. What did you learn from this story? Answers will vary. We each have unique talents and we should always do our best with those talents. We also need to know that we can't always do what others do but we should try and do our best to try new things. Your best may look different from someone else's best but if you know you did your very best – it's okay. If you look at your group of friends – you each have different talents but when you put them all together – you can do great things- like having a full band!
